To the Citizens of New Hampshire:

The publication of the 2005 Manual for the General Court marks the 59th volume published in odd-numbered years since 1889. It includes general information about state government and the 2004 January presidential primary, the September state primary and the November general election results.

On November 23, 2004, New Hampshire celebrated the 200th anniversary of the birth of Franklin Pierce. He was elected the 14th President of the United States in 1852 and the only person from our state to hold the country's highest office. This edition includes information about the life of Franklin Pierce and how the state has honored his public service.

During 2004 – 2005 Representatives Hall in the State House was refurbished with fresh paint, new carpeting and repairs to the ornate walls and ceiling. It was the first renovation to the hall since 1975.

Respectfully submitted,

Secretary of State

THE HONORABLE FRANKLIN PIERCE (1804–1869)

On November 23, 2004, New Hampshire celebrated the bicentennial of the birth of Franklin Pierce. He became the 14th President of the United States on March 4, 1853 and served until March 3, 1857. During his term as president, the United States added the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as a result of The Gadsden Purchase and Navy Admiral Matthew Perry led an expedition that opened trade and commerce with Japan (1854). It was an era of national achievement and of significant controversy. Pierce and his administration became embroiled in the controversial Kansas-Nebraska Act and in the failed attempt to purchase or conquer Cuba as a United States territory as directed by the Ostend Manifesto (1854).

Pierce was 48 years old when he reached the White House. By then, he had long since achieved a degree from Bowdoin College (1824), had completed training as a lawyer and been admitted to the New Hampshire Bar (1827), and had established successful law practices in Hillsborough and Concord. In March 1828, at age 23, he was elected town moderator of Hillsborough. The next year, 1829, at age 24, he was elected to the New Hampshire House of Representatives and served as chairman of the education committee, and was reelected in 1830, 31, and 32. He served as the youngest speaker of the New Hampshire House at age 26 in the 1831 and 1832 sessions. In 1833, at the age of 28, he was elected to the United States House of Representatives and served until 1837. That year, at age 32, he was elected to the United States Senate and served until February 28, 1842, when he resigned to return to New Hampshire to spend more time with his family.

From his position as speaker of the New Hampshire House Pierce helped lead the effort to create the first national Democratic Party presidential nominating convention. In late June of 1831, Pierce was instrumental in proposing to the country a new process for nominating candidates for president. The New Hampshire idea was accepted by the other states and in May of 1832 the first national party convention was held in Baltimore at the time and place originally proposed by New Hampshire.

Pierce revered his father, Benjamin Pierce who served twice as governor (1827–1828 and 1829–1830), especially admiring his military prowess during the Revolutionary War. He is the only person in New Hampshire to serve in the legislature at the same time his father served as governor. In 1847 he responded to President James Polk's call to oppose Mexican intervention in Texas. He raised and led New Hampshire men to participate in the expedition under Gen. Winfield Scott to destroy the army of Mexican Gen. Antonio Santa Anna. For this, Congress commissioned Pierce a brigadier general. He returned to New Hampshire in 1848 and in 1850 was elected as a delegate to the New Hampshire constitutional convention, the first one in the nineteenth century. He was elected by fellow delegates to serve as president of that 1850 convention.

Only in recent years has the bound volume of the written manuscript journal of that convention been located among the state's archives. It has now been transcribed so that in honor of the bicentennial of the birth of its presiding officer it will be for the first time printed.

PIERCE BICENTENNIAL

For the 2004 bicentennial, a gala event was held in the form of a period costume ball at the site of his boyhood home in Hillsborough, a house and property in which Franklin's parents, Benjamin and Anna (Kendrick), had lived out their lives and which is today a state historic site. The New Hampshire Historical Society assisted author Peter Wallner in publishing a new biography leading up to Pierce's presidency. The Society also ran a major exhibit specifically focused on Pierce entitled Franklin Pierce: Defining Democracy in America. Television networks and local media produced news stories. These bicentennial events culminated in a celebration on November 23, 2004 with a gravesite memorial, an open house at the Pierce Manse, and a special showing of Pierce's "California Mining Ring" at the Historical Society exhibit. At the gravesite, the National Guard made a brief presentation and the Governor's Horse Guards presented a military salute.

The New Hampshire Governor's Horse Guards were represented by Trooper Robert Duffy of Nashua, Corporal Larry Gilman of Milford, Trooper Howard Leonard of Goffstown, Marie Pelletier of Henniker, Captain Richard Lynch of Jaffrey, 1st Lt. Richard Moody of New Boston, and Sergeant Robert Beausoleil of New Boston.

The Governor's Horse Guards was established on June 24, 1859 by a special act of the general court and remain in good standing to this day. It held its first annual meeting on January 11, 1860, and honored former President Pierce by making him an honorary colonel. He was again honored by the Governor's Horse Guards at this memorial at his gravesite. The highlight of the open house at the Manse was the public announcement that the Pierce Brigade had legally merged with The Library and Archives of New Hampshire's Political Tradition ("The Political Library") to more forcefully promote the political heritage of the state.

On November 23, 2004, the Pierce Brigade and the New Hampshire Political Library announced their formal affiliation filed with the Secretary of State's office on the 200th birthday of President Franklin Pierce. In the dining room of the Franklin Pierce Manse are left to right: Nancy Hartford, Pierce Brigade President, Polly B. Johnson, Pierce Brigade founding member, Michael Chaney, Political Library President, Florence "Chips" Holden, Pierce Brigade Immediate Past President, and three Political Library board members — Secretary of State William Gardner, Ambassador Terry Shumaker, and Augusta Petrone.

Only a quarter of a mile separates the Manse from the gravesite in Concord's Old North Cemetery. The Manse, lived in by the Pierces for several years before his presidency, originally sat on a lot on Montgomery Street in Concord but was moved to its current site at the north end of Main Street in 1969. This was a project of a group that had come together some years earlier to establish the Pierce Brigade with the mission of reinvigorating historical interest in Franklin Pierce. His grave is located within the "Minot Enclosure," a fenced area within the Old North Cemetery. In 1945 the New Hampshire legislature appropriated $5,500 to place the current monument at the site. Each year the state Adjutant General's office conducts a brief ceremony at the site on November 23rd and the White House sends a wreath to commemorate the President's birth and service to his country. Other state commemorations of Pierce include his statue in front of the State House, his portrait in Representatives Hall, and a mountain in the White Mountains named in his honor. On January 6, 1988, during a session of the House of Representatives it was acknowledged that during the previous summer, the portraits of Franklin Pierce and Daniel Webster were switched so that Pierce appeared next to the portrait of George Washington.

The tragic family life of Jane and Franklin Pierce is fairly well known. All three sons died before reaching maturity. Franklin Pierce, Jr., died February 5, 1836, three days following his birth. Franklin Robert Pierce, born in September 1839, died of Typhus on November 14, 1843. The third son, Benjamin, born April 13, 1841, was fatally injured in a freak railroad accident on January 16, 1853, less than two months before Franklin's inauguration as president. Jane died December 2, 1863, and Franklin died October 8, 1869, both in Concord.

In addition to several biographies published during the presidential campaign of 1852, a major biography was written by Roy F. Nichols, Franklin Pierce: Young Hickory of the Granite State, in 1931 and revised in 1952. Volumes that are more recent include The Presidency of Franklin Pierce (1991) by Larry Gara; Franklin Pierce: A Bibliography (1993) by Wilfred J. Bisson of Keene State College; and Franklin Pierce: New Hampshire's Native Son (2004) by Peter A. Wallner. The majority of documents bearing on Franklin Pierce are in collections of the New Hampshire Historical Society, the Library of Congress, the National Archives, and the New Hampshire State Archives.

REPRESENTATIVES HALL RESTORATION

During 2004 – 2005, historic Representatives Hall in the State House, the oldest chamber in the United States still in continuous legislative use, was refurbished with fresh paint and new carpeting. In addition, the canvas portraits were cleaned and restretched, the ornamental plaster was repaired where necessary, the lighting fixtures were modernized and the theater lights on the ceiling were removed. The south windows in the anterooms were refinished to the original natural wood stain and the smoking section was eliminated. This was the first major renovation of Representatives Hall since 1975.

While the renovations were ongoing, former representative Terry Pfaff, who was designated by House Speaker Gene Chandler to oversee the project, became aware that a piece of State House furniture had surfaced at a local antique shop. Acting quickly, Pfaff made sure the State regained possession of "The Reporter's Table". This piece of furniture made in 1866 had been in Representative's Hall for over a century. During the 1970s it was removed for repairs and temporarily stored in an attic above the paint shop on the State Hospital campus. In the summer of 2004, after a safety inspection of the building by the fire marshal, it was recommended that unnecessary items above the paint shop be removed. After a review by the state curator, the State House Reporter's Table was released for sale and allowed to be sold for $150. The desk was repurchased by the State for $700. from the antique shop.

The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world. On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee, consisting of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston to draft a Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson wrote out a rough draft of the Declaration, which was carefully revised by the committee and presented to Congress for adoption. After some further slight revisions by that body, it was adopted on July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia.

The parchment with the original signatures was deposited with the Department of State when the government was organized in 1789.

The original Declaration of Independence was transferred from the Department of State by direction of the late President Warren G. Harding to the Library of Congress. The Declaration was moved from the Library of Congress in 1952 at the direction of Congress and transferred to the National Archives Building where it rests today.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

MADE BY THE ORIGINAL THIRTEEN STATES
IN CONGRESS AT PHILADELPHIA

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED JULY 4, 1776

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the law of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people should relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do in the name, and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies, are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honour.

The United States Constitution is the oldest federal constitution in existence. It was so well framed that it has served as the basis for this government for more than two centuries. Only once has it been seriously endangered, this being during the Civil War. Many of its principles have been adopted by other countries.

The Constitution was the outgrowth of a convention of delegates from the different states that met in Philadelphia in May, 1787, Rhode Island not being represented. George Washington presided over the convention, which lasted from May to September.

The Constitution was then submitted to the then existing states for ratification, with a provision that it should become effective when ratified by nine states. New Hampshire was the ninth state to ratify, June 21, 1788, and the Constitution went into effect in 1789.

The states ratified the Constitution in the following order: Delaware, Dec. 7; Pennsylvania, Dec 12, and New Jersey, Dec. 18, 1787; Georgia, Jan 2; Connecticut, Jan 9; Massachusetts, Feb. 6; Maryland, Apr. 28; South Carolina, May 23; New Hampshire, June 21; Virginia, June 26, and New York, July 26, 1788; North Carolina, Nov. 21, 1789, and Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

CONSTITUTION OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

PART FIRST

BILL OF RIGHTS

Article 1. [Equality of Men; Origin and Object of Government.] All men are born equally free and independent: therefore, all government of right originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

June 2, 1784*

[Art.] 2. [Natural Rights.] All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights - among which are, the enjoying and defending life and liberty; acquiring, possessing, and protecting, property; and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by this state on account of race, creed, color, sex or national origin.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1974 adding sentence to prohibit discrimination.

[Art.] 2-a. [The Bearing of Arms.] All persons have the right to keep and bear arms in defense of themselves, their families, their property and the state.

December 1, 1982

[Art.] 3. [Society, its Organization and Purposes.] When men enter into a state of society, they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society, in order to ensure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 4. [Rights of Conscience Unalienable.] Among the natural rights, some are, in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the Rights of Conscience.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 5. [Religious Freedom Recognized.] Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion; provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 6. [Morality and Piety.] As morality and piety, rightly grounded on high principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay, in the hearts of men, the strongest obligations to due subjection; and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society, therefore, the several parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies shall at all times have the right of electing their own teachers, and of contracting with them for their support or maintenance, or both. But no person shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the schools of any sect or denomination. And every person, denomination or sect shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect, denomination or persuasion to another shall ever be established.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1968 to remove obsolete sectarian references.

*The date on which each article was proclaimed as having been adopted is given after each article. This is followed by the year in which amendments were adopted and the subject matter of all the amendments.

[Art.] 7. [State Sovereignty.] The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, pertaining thereto, which is not, or may not hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 8. [Accountability of Magistrates and Officers; Public's Right to Know.] All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents, and at all times accountable to them. Government, therefore, should be open, accessible, accountable and responsive. To that end, the public's right of access to governmental proceedings and records shall not be unreasonably restricted.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1976 by providing right of access to governmental proceedings and records.

[Art.] 9. [No Hereditary Office or Place.] No office or place, whatsoever, in government, shall be hereditary - the abilities and integrity requisite in all, not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 10. [Right of Revolution.] Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security, of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men; therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted, and public liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to reform the old, or establish a new government. The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power, and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 11. [Elections and Elective Franchises.] All elections are to be free, and every inhabitant of the state of 18 years of age and upwards shall have an equal right to vote in any election. Every person shall be considered an inhabitant for the purposes of voting in the town, ward, or unincorporated place where he has his domicile. No person shall have the right to vote under the constitution of this state who has been convicted of treason, bribery or any willful violation of the election laws of this state or of the United States; but the supreme court may, on notice to the attorney general, restore the privilege to vote to any person who may have forfeited it by conviction of such offenses. The general court shall provide by law for voting by qualified voters who at the time of the biennial or state elections, or of the primary elections therefor, or of city elections, or of town elections by official ballot, are absent from the city or town of which they are inhabitants, or who by reason of physical disability are unable to vote in person, in the choice of any officer or officers to be elected or upon any question submitted at such election. Voting registration and polling places shall be easily accessible to all persons including disabled and elderly persons who are otherwise qualified to vote in the choice of any officer or officers to be elected or upon any question submitted at such election. The right to vote shall not be denied to any person because of the non-payment of any tax. Every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to be elected into office.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1903 to provide that in order to vote or be eligible for office a person must be able to read the English language and to write.

Amended 1912 to prohibit those convicted of treason, bribery or willfull violation of the election laws from voting or holding elective office.

Amended 1942 to provide for absentee voting in general elections. Amended 1956 to provide for absentee voting in primary elections.

Amended 1968 to provide right to vote not denied because of nonpayment of taxes. Also amended in 1968 to delete an obsolete phrase.

Amended 1976 to reduce voting age to 18.

Amended 1984 to provide accessibility to all registration and polling places.

[Art.] 12. [Protection and Taxation Reciprocal.] Every member of the community has a right to be protected by it, in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property; he is therefore bound to contribute his share in the expense of such protection, and to yield his personal service when necessary. But no part of a man's property shall be taken from him, or applied to public uses, without his own consent, or that of the representative body of the people. Nor are the inhabitants of this state controllable by any other laws than those to which they, or their representative body, have given their consent.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1964 by striking out reference to buying one's way out of military service.

[Art.] 13. [Conscientious Objectors not Compelled to Bear Arms.] No person, who is conscientiously scrupulous about the lawfulness of bearing arms, shall be compelled thereto.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1964 by striking out reference to buying one's way out of military service.

[Art.] 14. [Legal Remedies to be Free, Complete, and Prompt.] Every subject of this state is entitled to a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries he may receive in his person, property, or character; to obtain right and justice freely, without being obliged to purchase it; completely, and without any denial; promptly, and without delay; conformably to the laws.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 15. [Right of Accused.] No subject shall be held to answer for any crime, or offense, until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him; or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. Every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself; to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense, by himself, and counsel. No subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land; provided that, in any proceeding to commit a person acquitted of a criminal charge by reason of insanity, due process shall require that clear and convincing evidence that the person is potentially dangerous to himself or to others and that the person suffers from a mental disorder must be established. Every person held to answer in any crime or offense punishable by deprivation of liberty shall have the right to counsel at the expense of the state if need is shown; this right he is at liberty to waive, but only after the matter has been thoroughly explained by the court.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1966 to provide the right to counsel at state expense if the need is shown.

Amended 1984 reducing legal requirement proof beyond a reasonable doubt to clear and convincing evidence in insanity hearings.

[Art.] 16. [Former Jeopardy; Jury Trial in Capital Cases.] No subject shall be liable to be tried, after an acquittal, for the same crime or offense. Nor shall the legislature make any law that shall subject any person to a capital punishment, (excepting for the government of the army and navy, and the militia in actual service) without trial by jury.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 17. [Venue of Criminal Prosecutions.] In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts, in the vicinity where they happened, is so essential to the security of the life, liberty and estate of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county or judicial district than that in which it is committed; except in any case in any particular county or judicial district, upon motion by the defendant, and after a finding by the court that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had where the offense may be committed, the court shall direct the trial to a county or judicial district in which a fair and impartial trial can be obtained.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1792 to change "assembly" to: legislature.

Amended 1978 so that court at defendant's request may change trial to another county or judicial district.

[Art.] 18. [Penalties to be Proportioned to Offenses; True Design of Punishment.] All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves, and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do the lightest offenses. For the same reason a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust. The true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate mankind.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1792 deleting "those of" after do in 3d sentence and changing "dye" to: offenses.

[Art.] 19. [Searches and Seizures Regulated.] Every subject hath a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches and seizures of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. Therefore, all warrants to search suspected places, or arrest a person for examination or trial in prosecutions for criminal matters, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation; and if the order, in a warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places, or to arrest one or more suspected persons or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the persons or objects of search, arrest, or seizure; and no warrant ought to be issued; but in cases and with the formalities, prescribed by law.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1792 to change order of words.

[Art.] 20. [Jury Trial in Civil Causes.] In all controversies concerning property, and in all suits between two or more persons except those in which another practice is and has been customary and except those in which the value in controversy does not exceed $1,500 and no title to real estate is involved, the parties have a right to a trial by jury. This method of procedure shall be held sacred, unless, in cases* arising on the high seas and in cases relating to mariners' wages, the legislature shall think it necessary hereafter to alter it.

June 2, 1784

Amended in 1877 to prohibit jury trials unless the amount in controversy exceeds $100.

Amended in 1960 to increase the amount to $500 before a jury trial may be requested.

*"Cases" appears in 1792 parchment copy of constitution. Original constitution had "causes."

Amended in 1988 to change $500 to $1,500

[Art.] 21. [Jurors; Compensation.] In order to reap the fullest advantage of the inestimable privilege of the trial by jury, great care ought to be taken, that none but qualified persons should be appointed to serve; and such ought to be fully compensated for their travel, time and attendance.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 22. [Free Speech; Liberty of the Press.] Free speech and liberty of the press are essential to the security of freedom in a state: They ought, therefore, to be inviolably preserved.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1968 to include free speech.

[Art.] 23. [Retrospective Laws Prohibited.] Retrospective laws are highly injurious, oppressive, and unjust. No such laws, therefore, should be made, either for the decision of civil causes, or the punishment of offenses.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 24. [Militia.] A well regulated militia is the proper, natural, and sure defense, of a state.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 25. [Standing Armies.] Standing armies are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be raised, or kept up, without the consent of the legislature.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 26. [Military Subject to Civil Power.] In all cases, and at all times, the military ought to be under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 27. [Quartering of Soldiers.] No soldier in time of peace, shall be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner; and in time of war, such quarters ought not to be made but by the civil authorities in a manner ordained by the legislature.

June 2, 1784

Amended in 1980 substituting "authorities" for "magistrate."

EXECUTIVE COUNCILORS

Article 60 of the second part of the constitution provides for an executive council of five members to advise and act with the governor. Before the constitution there was a council both under the temporary constitution of the Revolution and under the provincial government. Since 1913 councilors have been elected by plurality vote to represent population but previously to that they were elected by majority vote to represent property. In the colonial days councilors were appointed.

The following is a list of all the councilors during this century giving the name and address of each and the years they served.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

THE SENATE

The senate began under the constitution and first met in 1784. There were at first twelve senators who represented the five counties that then existed, five senators from Rockingham county, two from Strafford, two from Hillsborough, two from Cheshire, and one from Grafton. In 1793 senatorial districts were created to take the place of county representation and each district elected one senator. The elections during the early years took place in March and the legislature met in June annually.

The senatorial districting of 1793 was changed over in 1803 and several times subsequently. In 1878 the senate was doubled in size. In 1915 the senators were elected by plurality instead of majority vote. In previous Manuals, Volumes 55, 56, 57 and 58 a list of the senators from the beginning through 1948 are listed, showing the name and residence of each member, arranged in the order of districts, when the districts were created, and previous to that year, in the order of counties.

Following is a listing of the senators from 1949 to current, showing the name and address of each member.

UNITED STATES SENATORS FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE

The following is a list of the senators from this state, and the years of service. One of the first senators, John Langdon, was chosen president pro tempore of the first national senate in 1789 and presided over that body until Vice-President John Adams qualified as president of the senate by virtue of his office as vice-president. Senator Langdon was again elected president in the second senate in 1792-3. Senator Samuel Livermore was elected president of the fourth senate in 1795-6 and of the sixth senate in 1799-1800. The census of 1830 reduced it to five, that of 1840 to four and that of 1850 to three. CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT QUESTION

Following is the question submitted to the qualified voters of New Hampshire on November 2, 2004, together with the vote on the question:

“Are you in favor of repealing and reenacting part II, article 73-a of the constitution in order to clarify that both the judiciary and legislature have the authority to regulate court practices and procedures and to resolve potential conflicts that may arise so that it reads as follows:

[Art.] 73-a. [Court Practices and Procedures.] The chief justice of the supreme court shall be the administrative head of all the courts in the state. The chief justice shall have the power, with the concurrence of a majority of the other supreme court justices, to make rules of general application regulating court administration and the practice, procedure, and admissibility of evidence, in all courts in the state. The legislature shall have a concurrent power to regulate the same matters by statutes of general application, except that such legislative enactments may not abridge the judiciary’s necessary adjudicatory functions. In the event of a conflict between a rule promulgated by the judiciary and a statute enacted by the legislature, the statute, if not otherwise contrary to this constitution shall prevail over the rule.”
